As the minister of a country church in Georgia was about to marry a couple, a lady objected on the ground that the intended bride was not of age, and her parents were ignorant of the act. The clergyman said it was not a legal objection, and he declined to let the matter to rest. A unanimous vote by the congregation was the result, and the knot was tied.

The late Lord Leighton did not go in for popularity. A few years ago he advertised for some one to fill up the vacancy in his Donaghy agency. Three hundred applicants wrote to him, and in answer to one of them he said that he wished to appoint a man of good character to show natives in Australia and New Zealand as he wanted a wholesome lesson given to the tenants on his estate.

During the thirty-six years of its existence the income tax has brought into the coffers of Great Britain and Ireland the sum of £295,000,000, or $1,285,000,000 in gold. The highest rate—14 sh. on the pound—was in 1856 '57, the years following the Crimean war. The lowest, in 1873, was 2 1/2 sh. while the present tax, in which the increase from the "six million" vote, is only 3d. (about two per cent.) on incomes above £150.

A man stepped upon a woman's trailing dress, and apologized. "Such was the little origin of a terrible tragedy in a Methodist church in Jacksonville, Illinois, on Sunday last. An altercation followed, the man who stepped upon the dress was shot dead, and was also another man who interfered, and the murder would probably be hanged in due time. Two lives already taken, and one more likely to be taken, and all on account of a careless tread upon a woman's dress.

Twenty-six years ago a man went from Wilbraham, Mass., to California, leaving $700 as a loan to a farmer, in whom he put more trust than in savings banks. He wrote letters about the money from time to time, and supposed it was drawing interest. Recently he came across the continent to collect it, the sum of principal and interest amounting to $3,000, but the farmer, who was wealthy, refused to pay a cent on the ground that the note was outlawed. The man had to borrow money to get back to California.

Twenty-five years have elapsed since Harriet Wood, a free negro woman of Cincinnati, was kidnapped by Zed Ward of Kentucky, and sold into slavery in the far South. For fifteen years the woman thus unjustly deprived of her liberty remained the chattel of a harsh master, until liberated at the close of the war. She returned to Cincinnati a few years ago, old and crippled, and afterward instituted a suit of $15,000 damages against the man who had robbed her of freedom. A jury awarded her $3,500.

Three-fifths of the letters received at the Dead Letter Office furnish data which renders it possible to return them to the senders. Owing to the small clerical force in the office, nearly a million letters this capable of restoration, were in the last fiscal year necessarily destroyed. If the amount of money which these million letter-writers would be willing to pay to be relieved of their anxiety concerning missing letters were available, it would no doubt provide an adequate clerical force for two or three dead letter offices.

The acquittal of William Phillips, accused of killing a mill-man in the streets of Pittsburg during the railroad strike of last July, is regarded as a condemnation of the orders of the Pennsylvania authorities. The evidence showed that during the retreat of Gen. Branton's command, Phillips fired from the rear and shot killed a mill-man. Phillips' acquittal was grounded upon the judgment of the jury that Branton was not justified in his military orders, and that the killing of Phillips' man under the circumstances was not murder.

The record of failures for the first quarter of 1878 does not compare favorably with that of 1877 or 1876. The number is put at 3,355, and the amount of liabilities at $24,074,926. In the same time in 1877, 2,839 failures were reported, with aggregate liabilities of $24,388,070, while in 1876 the number was 2,800, and the liabilities $24,444,108. The Mercantile Agency circular that gives these figures explains that the winter through which we have just passed has been exceptionally severe in its effect upon retail traders. The abundant crops have not quickened trade as much as was anticipated. Stocks have not been salable, and the shrinkage of resources has been enormous.

A semi-official list is published of churches which have recently been freed from debt, either by the personal assistance of Brother Kimball or otherwise. It foots up fifty-nine, and is only in part. There are about 100 of these churches. It is only right, however, to say that in many cases the freedom from debt is not an accomplished fact. Large sums of money have been subscribed, and with the best intention on the part of those who have given their pledges. In many instances the pledges have been paid, and in others they never will be. Still, the efforts which have been made have a good tendency. Debt-raising just now is popular, and ought to be encouraged as far as money can be actually be gathered for it. The nearer to a cash basis these pledges can be brought, the better for all concerned. Pledges to pay at far distant dates are as easy to make as they are hard to fulfill.

THE WORLD'S DOINGS.

CRIMES AND CRIMINALS.

The Galveston News Corpus Christi special says all the ranches in Duran and Pula's counties have been burnt by Indian and Mexican raiders.

John A. Kag, an architect who has occupied a high professional position, was found dead in his room in the building on the corner of Fifth and Pine streets, St. Louis, Mo., on the 26th inst., with a pistol shot wound in his head. It is supposed to be a case of suicide.

Another Indian raid is reported on the Texas Northwest frontier. Raiders were seen on the 25th inst. near Escadada, between Forts Concha and Stockton, where the mail rider was killed last night. These Indians are from Fort Stanton reservation. The Indians who captured horses, and murdered 15 persons near Lario, have made good their escape.

The jury in the case of J. R. P. Michlin, clerk in the war department, for excessive cruelty to his negro, failed to agree. Judge Wiley said this was a case rendered by difficulties. He was satisfied a verdict of acquittal would shock the community, and he knew a verdict of guilty would likewise shock the community, for the consequences to follow such a verdict would be as injurious to the children as to their father. He hoped there would be no other trial of the case, and suggested that an application be made to the court of chancery to provide a guardian for the children and require the father to support them.

A heavy wind and rain storm passed over Cleveland, Ohio, on the 24th inst. The roof of the new Methodist church was blown off, damaging Judge Yonson's residence considerably in its descent. During the storm Judge Milton Sulliff dropped dead from apoplexy. Damage by the storm is much greater than was supposed at first. The easting house of the furnace was blown down, Trusdell & Townsend's was blown at the factory demolished, and also the stock at the manufactory and the city playing ball stock. The churches and trees were wrecked in all directions.

Rev. P. B. Morgan, of St. John's Episcopal church, Cincinnati, Ohio, has formally announced his withdrawal from fellowship in that church on account of its treatment of Lane, and his intention to unite with the Reformed Episcopal church.

A special from Madrid reports 275 fishermen are missing from the neighborhood of San Sebastian and Bilbao. It is believed that a majority were drowned in the late gale. In addition to this loss, 55 boats and their crews belonging to the province of Guipuzcoa, have been wrecked.

At Lexington, Wisconsin, county, Minn., on the 24th inst., Willie George, ten years old, son of Henry George, of that place, was playing in a wheat bin in the warehouse, and the spout had been opened to load a car, and he was drawn into the vortex and buried under 400 bushels of wheat and taken out dead.

The venerable rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, of New York City, Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Trigg, senior, preached his farewell sermon on the 25th inst. Speaking of his ministry, he said it had been an exception to the general rule governing the world. The labor and responsibility were great, and this, with his feebleness of body, led him to voluntarily retire. He thanked the congregation for their kindness to him, and said he had much for which he thanked God daily, and nothing of which to complain. When speaking to them his voice faltered. At the close he was led out of the church, and he was the last of an era of the congregation.

An accident happened on the 26th inst., to the train on the Richmond & Danville railroad, near Clover, 95 miles from Richmond, Va., in which three persons were killed and several injured. B. F. Grady, fatally; C. E. Parker, Z. Intmyer, seriously; F. M. Trueman, seriously; and several others, slightly. The accident is attributed entirely to the fact that the train stopped on the main track to coal and the train officers failed to signal a freight train coming in the same direction. The result was that the rear end of the sleeper on the main train was telegraphed by the freight train, and the freight train, badly smashing the sleeper and freight engine, and injuring the persons named. Other cars of both trains were damaged.

A terrible cyclone swept over the country from west of St. Louis, to the Gulf of Mexico, on the afternoon of April 21st, leaving the State above the Missouri valley junction, and passing northwesterly across to St. Louis, Kansas and Texas, in Wisconsin county. Trees were torn from the roots by the roots along the rivers. The house of J. K. Thurston was wrecked completely. The wing of the house of Mrs. Reilly was struck and torn to pieces, and F. Reilly, standing in the wing, was picked up, carried over the main building, and over some trees near by, and set down unharmed. J. H. Hughes' house in the same neighborhood was entirely destroyed. The family were away from home. The force of the storm was terrific, destroying fences, uprooting trees, overturning corn cribs, etc. Horses and cattle were picked up and carried a considerable distance. A large loss of life is reported, and the damage to property all along the route of the storm is great.

FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE.

A Child's Calendar. April: summer's coming! Now begins the year. For the snow has melted, and the blue-bird's here!

May: the leaves are dancing in the sunny air! Ferns uncurl, and blossoms spring up everywhere! Sweet the breezes blowing where pink may-flowers bide. Under last year's leaf-fall on the warm hill-side.

June: why, every June day is a happy dream! Buttercups and daisies, strawberries and cream! Hush! bid in the clover, would you ever think All the place could come from just one bob-link?

July: off at sunrise picking blackberries! (Shining after bird's nests up the tallest trees!) "Hilping" in the hay! On the pond afloat, tugging water-lilies in a leaky boat.

August: fire-flies brighten when the daylight fades! In the swampy meadows grow the tall "cat-tails!" By the shady brookside you can feel the heat While the water ripples over naked feet!

Will grapes in September tempt to climb, and leeks! In the fragrant orchard apples lie in heaps. Round the elder presses, thronging with the bees, Don't it taste like honey, sucked through straws like these?

October: (October! Then the chestnut burrs! Battle down like hailstones! the least wind stirs! Gold and crimson leaf-showers from the tree-tops fall. Squirrels scamper gaily over the old stone wall.

Gray skies in November bring the first light snow! Whirling softly downward see the white flakes go! In dear grandma's kitchen peering, eager eyes, "Sneak out!" such thanks giving pies!

"Christmas" cries December. How the stockings hang with burlies in the chimney! Trampling up at day-break out of downy beds, "Santa knew we wanted just these skates and sleds!"

January's buried in a great snow-fall. On last coat and mittens! out to slide and romp! Merry sleigh-bells jingle in the frosty air, And the grand ice-palace rises white and fair.

February hurries. Only twenty-eight days of winter weather! "Tisn't long to wait, before the snow melts, and the sun comes out! Poor old Winter's white coat many a brown patch shows.

March! has winter vanished? Hear the river's wading through the door-ways in big rubber boots. You may catch spring peeping out in crocus-shoots!

APRIL. A ship goes down in an instant with all on board. The terrible destruction of the Eurycie, a stout steamer upon full sail, her disappearance in a moment, the almost entire loss of every soul on board of her, is a disaster almost unparalleled in naval history; yet we have heard a similar event often related and have all its details deeply impressed upon our memory.

The ship was a French vessel, the Eurycie, and was on her way to England. She was a fine ship, and was well manned. She was on her way to England, and was on her way to England. She was a fine ship, and was well manned. She was on her way to England, and was on her way to England.

A cold winter's night, several years since, found a stage load of passengers gathered around the warm fire of a tavern bar-room in a New England village. Shortly after we arrived, a peddler drove up and ordered that his horse should be stabled for the night.

After we had had our supper, we repaired to the bar-room, where the conversation flowed freely. Several anecdotes had been related, and finally the peddler was asked to give us a story, as men of his trade are supposed to be full of tales, figures and anecdotes.

He was a short, thick-set man, somewhere about forty years of age, and gave evidence of great physical strength. He gave his name as John Smith, and that his home was in Dover, New Hampshire.

"It was resolved not to let the landlady in the secret, but to give information to the men who were to be sent to reach the inn before the villain left, for I had no doubts with regard to his identity. "It had an alarm watch, and having set it to sleep, I was aroused at the proper time and immediately rose and dressed myself. When I reached the yard I found the clouds all passed by and a bright moon shone brightly. The hostler was easily aroused and by two o'clock I was on the road. The mud was deep, and my horse could not travel very far before it was so deep that I was obliged to dismount half an hour I was clear of the village. At a short distance ahead lay a large tract of forest, mostly of great pine. The road lay straight on for some distance as I can remember the distance was twelve miles. Yet the moon was in the east and the road ran nearly west, so I thought I should be able to find my way. I rode on for some time and went about half a mile when my wagon wheels settled with a jump and jerk into a deep hole. I uttered an exclamation of astonishment, but that was not all. I was thrown forward by the sudden source. "What could it be? I looked quickly around but could see nothing, yet I knew the sound that I heard was very close to me. I looked up and down, and up, I felt something besides the jerk from the hole. I heard something tumble from one side to the other of my wagon, and could also feel the wheels rolling on the uneven ground. "It was simply a man in my cart." I knew this on the instant. "Of course I felt puzzled. At first I imagined that somebody had fallen from the wagon, but I was not at all satisfied. My next idea was that somebody had got in to sleep there; but this passed away as soon as it came, for no man would have broken into my wagon in the middle of the night. I thought, gentleman, opened my eyes. Whoever was there had broken in. My

"Now I had him. My cart was all most new, made of a stout frame of white oak and made on purpose for hard usage. I did not believe any ordinary mortal could break out. I got off, and then urged my horse on, still keeping my pistol handy. I knew I should come to a hard road, and so I allowed my horse to pick his own way through the mud.

"About ten minutes after this I heard another cart. It was a heavy one, a gringon horse, as though some heavy force was being applied to the deer. I said nothing, but the idea struck me that the villain might judge where I sat, and so I shot up through the top of the cart at me; but I was not hurt.

"Of course I knew my unexpected passenger was a villain, for he must have been awake ever since I started, and nothing in the world but absolute villainy would have caused him to remain to expend his part-up feelings. He has had to be not only allowed, but authorized, to smash into 900,000 fragments the person who was the cause of his misfortune. The man returned when called for. Address E. W. McCrene, Box 260,000.—Courier Journal.

On Wednesday last the Lake Laws, here short-lived, belonging to Chas. W. McCune, of Chicago, Ill., were sold by auction. The prices obtained were low, considering the quality of the stock. Among the higher figures given were $430 for Matchless Ties; $500 for Mail of the West, or Bell; Mr. McCune paid $1,120, for Imp. Avon; and $1,000 for a patent machine for Fordy's wool. Only a few other buyers above $200.

If they are preparing the foundation we will support the Coöperative's needle on the Thames embankment in London. Where, and where, is the other decree of the Serpent as Nile that was to divide New York from a tributary?

"Are you not?"
 "You say I am." "Come, sir; where is your religion?" "The true religion."
 "What religion is that?" "My mother's religion." "What was your mother's religion?" "She took whisky in her tea."
 "You bless yourself, don't you?" "Yes."
 "What is the name of the place where you were born?" "The place of worship do you go to?" "The place of most convocation." "Of what persuasion are you?" "My persuasion is that you are not and find out." "What is your helical?" "That you are puzzled." "Do you care to write to it?" "Not to you." "Who would write to it if you were likely to die?" "The doctor." "I insist upon your answering me." "I am a Roman Catholic!" "No, sir." "And why don't you say so at once?" "You never asked me. You said I am not." "I asked many things, but you never answered me. You were always making me ask more questions at me, and I thought you was manacled to my behavior and my own matters."

whenever dripping of lard or butter may have dropped in. The best way to keep the soup is an excellent soup if it keeps clear from taint and mould. When soup making day arrives, have your kettle, if you have not a furnace, set on stones, and build a fire under it. Stir your fire with chips of wood. If you like, you may have a large chunk or block of wood for a main fire. It is not necessary to get it wholly under the kettle, but close up at one side. This will give what is very essential, a steady heat, and you may not have to run coals. Put the lard or butter under the kettle, and keep the contents from running overboard. Toss a pallor or two of the lard that has dripped through your legs, which should be strong enough to hold up an egg, and boil, stirring frequently. When the soup is thick, add the vegetables, and when they are all in, boil a few minutes longer and your soup is made. In regard to leaching

The editor of the HERALD received a letter from W. R. Colton, Esq., late editor and publisher of the Carver Press,
dated from Jackson, Michigan. Mr. Colton stated that he was in good health and still engaged in settling up his old family affairs
and as soon as he was through with that,
he would probably take charge of a job office in Chicago. He wished to be kindly remembered to his many friends in this county.

BENTON FLOUR MILL.

The new engine and machinery of this mill has been put in and Mr. Casper Kron-schable informs us that he will be ready to commence grinding on Tuesday May 7th 1878. His many customers in that part of the county should bear this fact in mind. He has also added a feed burl to the capacity of the mill and those in want of feed should bear this in mind.

A lot of choice potatoes at 25 cents per bushel, call at once.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATION.

A small delegation of odd fellows, went down to Minneapolis last Friday, to participate in the celebration of their fifty ninth anniversary. They report having a good time.

BONGARD STATION.

We are pleased to learn that the trains on the H. & D. Railroad now stop at this station. It is a great accommodation to the farmers in that vicinity.

We also learn that a survey has been made at the station with a view of putting in a side track with a platform for passengers. Our friends of that station duly appreciate the kindness of this company.

Gottlieb Eder, effected a sale of his bakery and confectionery store last Saturday.
Herman Erren, of St. Paul being the purchaser.

and will, we understand, branch out on a larger scale. He will manufacture his own candy and thereby add to his profits. We wish him success.

intention to go into business as soon as his building is ready.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Communion services were held at the Catholic Church last Sunday in this village.
The young girls were tastefully arrayed
in white for the occasion. The Church building was crowded and the services were interesting.

ACCIDENT.—Arnold Hoen of Chap-hassen, had a valuable horse killed last Saturday. It was accidental. The animal was valued at $140. We wish you better luck next time Arnold.

a success in every particular. Nearly 100 couples were in attendance. The boys cleared some $20 above expenses.

DR. WINCHELL'S TEETHING SYRUP is a

ATTENTION TAX PAYERS.

The attention of Tax Payers is called to the late act of the Legislature inflicting
a penalty of 10 per cent on all Real Estate Taxes unpaid on June 1st. Pay up before the last day of May and save said penalty.

Arrival.—A young stranger arrived in town yesterday April 30th, which caused him to be the first visitor, and no doubt at once joy to those who interested in the future. This all happened at the townsmen Mr. Ohlands.

WAGON WORKS—NEW MACHINERY.

Joseph Ess, our leading wagon manufacturer, having found that his present facilities were inadequate to meet the increasing demands of his business, has enlarged his shop and put in new machinery, consisting of a steam horse power, circular saw, scroll saw and cross cut saw and other attachments, which fully doubles his capacity for turning out work, and he is now fully prepared to meet any drafts that may be made upon his establishment.

The wagon timber is all seasoned and is procured from Wisconsin Indiana and Ohio,
and his work is warranted to be first class
in every particular. He runs a blacksmith shop in connection with his wagon establishment and employs only competent and experienced workmen. His prices are moderate and he cheerfully recommends
Mr. Ess and his work to the public.

Our friend Florian Linenfelser celebrated his 40th birthday on Tuesday last, and entertained his friends in fine style. The clerks in the employ of the firm of Linen-felser & Faber, presented him with an elegant gold headed cane, with his name nicely engraved thereon. Floria is justly proud of it, and swings it with the grace of an "old man elect." We hope he may live to enjoy many more such occasions.

H. J. Peck, Esq., of Shakopee, has been re-elected city attorney; George Lyons as

York State.

Walline has kindly consented to act as agent for the HERALD in San Francisco, and will receive subscriptions for us in his neighborhood.

LAND SEEKERS.

Several parties from Wisconsin were in town during the week, looking up farms.
They wish to buy in Carver County, and have necessary "gold" to plunk down on finding something to suit them.

PETTY THEFT.

P. Kreckelberg residing in the town of Dahlgren not far from Mr. Starkens farm, was in Chaska last Monday week with his family.
They properly fastened the doors when they left, yet some tramps effected an entrance in the house through the windows, and broke open his wardrobe and took there from a new suit of clothing one over coat and a pair of boots, the whole valued at $60. He did not miss the stuff until three or four days afterwards. It is a severe loss, and should caution all our farmers to look out for tramps.

Do not neglect a Cough or Cold. Ellert's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry is a standard remedy, and will cure a cough in half the time required by ordinary remedies. In asthmatic and bronchial affections, and all throat and breast disorders, it is a truly great medicine and has saved many valuable lives. It never fails to give satisfaction. Sold by Jos. Franken.

ROAD SUITS.

Leonard Dirks, John Bongard, Lambert Dols and J. Zimmermann, being dissatisfied with the amounts of damages
awarded them by the board of commissioners in laying out the town line road between the towns of Benton, Waconia, Dahlgren
and Laketown, appealed from the determination of the commissioners, to justice Weschecker for a jury to determine the amount of damages which they sustained
by laying out said road over lands owned by them. The appeals were tried on Wednesday and Thursday of last week
at Waconia, and resulted in an increase of the damages in each of the cases. Leonard Dirks was allowed by the commissioners $200, and recovered in the appeal proceedings forty two dollars.

F. Zimmermann, Lambert Dols and John Bongard, were each allowed by the commissioners one dollar, and they recovered the former forty two dollars and each of the latter twenty nine dollars. W.
C. Odell appeared for the appellants and
S. Fowler, for the county attorney.

FISHING CLUB MEETING.

Neptune Fishing Club of Chaska, will have their annual meeting next Sunday, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Washington House.
Every member is requested to be present.

TRAMPS.—Four tramps called at the farm house of Mr. Martin Guasner, near town, and not satisfied with his fare tried to force him to give them a lot of delicacies. He pulled a revolver on them and they "got". Treat them all so.

—Somebody entered the room of Joseph Delsing, in the Minneapolis House, on Saturday last, and took his silver watch
and some other trinkets, valued at $35.00.
Keep your eyes on all suspicious characters
that may be around.

Fred Salter has opened his groceries and is now in full blast.

WAR ON PRICES.

Any and every body in want of a good
set of cheapness, cheap for cash, should call on Hammer and Beierstettler. They have also a fine line of trunks, valises, brushes
&c. Give them a call.

RAILROAD TIES.

$12,000 Paid to Farmers.

Messrs. Lemay & Grant, of Fairbault, contractors, contracted last February to furnish the H. & D. Railroad Company 50,000 ties, to be delivered upon the line of that railroad between Dahlgren station and Norwood, by May 15th 1878.

These gentlemen inform us that they commenced work March 1st 1878, and that they have employed on an average 50 men
since that time and that they have cut and purchased from farmers in this county

50,000 TIES

which are ready for delivery. They have paid on an average 24 cents per tie, which would give us

$12,000.

that has been paid directly to the farmers
of this county, residing along the line of the road. In addition to this Mr. Grant informs us that in addition to this, he has paid out several thousand dollars for board
of men in his employ and team hire &c., making a total of some $15,000 cash that has gone into the pockets of our citizens from this firm alone, since the 1st day of March last.

Norwood was the headquarters of the contractors, and all payments were made from there, consequently we surmise that the business circle of that thrifty village
got their share of the "dilly luccy."

Tuy Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment
for Rheumatism, Sprains Bruises &c. Sold by all Druggists. Sold by Jos. Franken.

A fine lot of land for sale.

BENEFIT! BENEFIT!!

Many old settlers and friends of Mr.
Wm. Brinkhaus, have decided to give him
a benefit in Concordia Hall, Thursday evening May 10th 1878.

It is well known that Mr. Brinkhaus has been lying ill for many months and has not been able to attend to any business
and this generous act upon the part of his many friends will be correspondingly appreciated by him, while every one will do their best to make it a grand success.—
Dr. E. H. Lewis of Carver has volunteered to give a theatrical performance and will give the Irish farce "Limerick Boy" in which he cannot be excelled, and will guarantee a most laughable entertainment.—
After the "farce" and music a grand ball will be given. The entire proceeds to be given to Mr. Wm. Brinkhaus.

PERSONAL.—John G. Nystrom, Henry
Kuntz and Henry Tesch, of Watertown
made our office a pleasant call last Saturday.

Gunther Teubert, Esq., of Hancock, assessor of that town, was in town Saturday and we are under obligation to him for a report of the assessors' meeting, which is published in another column.

Assessors Erhard of Waconia and Booth
of Young America, also dropped in to see us Saturday.

John Orth Esq., the well known Brewer of Minneapolis, was in town calling on his friends on Saturday. He of course subscribed for the HERALD.

Peter Wirtz, Leonard Hochhausen and Jacob Meuwissen of Benton were in town
last Sunday and made us a pleasant visit.

Jacob Lahr, the enterprising mill owner
and proprietor of Helvetia made us a pleasant call on Monday. Come often, Jacob.

Andreas Herlitz and mother, are steadily
improving and are expected to be soon ar-round again.

Capt. W. H. Nills, of Carver, who was dangerously ill last week is slowly improving,
and his physician thinks he will soon be able to resume business.

Dr. E. H. Lewis of Carver has built a new office and fitted it up in superb style. His outfit of instruments and surgical appliances
cannot be excelled in the Minnesota Valley;
and Doc. is the boy that knows how to use them.

Prof. Jacob Haas suddenly astonished the denizens of Chaska this a. m. by appearing in a shiny silk hat. Query—Does the Doc. intend to join the sportsman club?

Herald office hereby return thanks to Mrs.
Maurus, and also to Mrs. Barry for a basket delicious lettuce presented this morning.
Nothing finer grew under the sun. Ho, for Minnesota May 1, 1878!

SPORTSMEN TAKE NOTICE!

ther. Sold by Jos. Franken.

PLEASANT EXPERIENCE
Is always the happy result of using Parker's
Ginger. The mother gains surprising health and strength by its aid, and her babe thus obtains a happy comfort and peace that shows
wonderfully the strengthened nervous and physical condition of the mother reflects itself on her nursing little one. This is a rare comfort to have headache, Nervousness and Sleeplessness
subdued as only this remedy can do it, while
the destroyer of our little ones—Cholera Infantum, and the dreaded Cholera, Dysentery,
Cholera Morbus, Colic and Cramps, are shorn of their terrors and speedily cured by this incomparable corrective and invigorant. Buy from your Druggist Jos. Franken $1.00 bottle or a sample bottle at 15 cts and test its merits.

REMEMBER THE CONCERT.

Friday evening May 10th is the time designated for the concert to be given by the choir of the English service Association. In addition to the choir, Mrs. G. Heinemann, formerly connected with the St. Paul musical associations, and an excellent singer, has consented to assist, with others. The services of Mr. Walter Demers, a very skillful pianist, have also been tendered.
Mrs. Heinemann has finally consented to the use of her square grand piano; and with several brass pieces from the Chaska brass band, they will be enabled to afford our citizens a varied programme, and a rare treat. The admission fee we understand, will be 25 cts, children 15 cts. We bespeak for them a full house and abundant success.

In compliance with a Law enacted by the last legislature Register of Deeds Grei-nerhas just furnished to the assessors a schedule of all mortgages on record and in force May 1st for the purpose of taxation. The list comprises 774 mortgages.

We are informed by Capt. Collins, the gentlemanly and accommodating agent of the Minneapolis road at Carver, that his depot was broken into on Monday night,
by tramps, who gained entrance by prying open the windows. Nothing of importance was disturbed however.

We understand that on the same evening the depot at S. C. Junction was also entered by tramps, but we did not hear
whether anything of value is missing.

Benton Items.

Benton village is progressing in school
matters. The catholic school commenced
April 3rd, and has at present 103 scholars. Peter Wirtz is the teacher. A private school will also be started in town in a few days. It is a doubtful experiment.

Messrs. Kronschnable & Co. of the Benton Mills, last week moved their engine and boiler into their new addition. The new machine shop will be completed in a couple of weeks, and the mill will resume running as heretofore.

Jacob Meuwissen, blacksmith, will move
his shop over to the depot, and perhaps will commence another branch of business also.

Mr. Ertz, will build in a couple of weeks.
He will enlarge his new store and extend his business.

Mr. Geo. Bleichner and Mohrbecker and Meuwissen received large stock of goods
last Friday and they now propose to sell
as cheap as any one in the county.

L. Hochhausen, one of our leading merchants, has been quite sick for a year past,
but he is now rapidly recovering. He is able to be out.

The Benton Mill is now ready to grind
feed of all kinds for farmers on short notice. The proprietors have put in a buhr for feed purposes alone.

There is no earthly boon more precious than good health, and it becomes its possessor to return it. If you are assailed with such provoking ills as sick headaches, rapid liver, sour stomach and a general feeling of weariness and disgust, don't go and commit suicide; but take Ellert's Daylight Liver Pills and be cured. sold

FIRST COMMUNION.

Last Sunday our catholic congregation
held again the great festival of the first holy communion. The church was decorated beautifully. In the morning the procession took place from the school house
to the church, consisting of the first communicants, 20 in number; the priest Rev.
Wendlin, the sisters of the christian charity, and the cornet band. High mass took place at 10 o'clock a. m. The sermon of Rev. Wendlin was a splendid one. After the service the children of the first communion was invited by the priest to a grand dinner at his house. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the vesper took place,
and afterwards the cornet band gave Rev.
Wendlin a serenade.

Many thanks to father Wendlin, to the sisters of the christian charity, the cornet
band and also the church choir under direction of D. Kerker.

We hope that many festivals like this will return, and our greatest wish is that our priest Rev. Wendlin, and the sisters of christian charity shall be with us for many years.

An Appalling Calamity.
SIX MILLS DESTROYED
18 LIVES LOST.

The most shocking and serious disaster which ever occurred in this State, took place at Minneapolis last Thursday evening. Six flouring mills, the big Wabash mill, being among the number, were destroyed, and with them the lives of 18 human beings, which overshadows all other considerations. The loss sustained is placed at $1,000,000, with an insurance loss of some $500,000.

A full description of the disaster in minute detail appears on our second page in our column, to which we invite the attention of our readers. It is of thrilling interest outside of its appalling details.

The Supreme Court of the United States, in a decision rendered Monday, holds that where a party insured is insured to pay premiums to local agents and the agent with whom has been instructed to deal, ceases to be such and no other is designated by the company, and in consequence of these facts the premium is not payable, but is a debt due to the insured, and is payable to him or his heirs.

THE STATE PRISON CONTROVERSY.
The commission consisting of H. H. Sibley, J. R. Morgan, J. W. Johnson, of Hennepin, and L. E. Hubbard, of Goodhue, appointed to adjust the difference between the state and the prison, after several months of negotiation, have filed their report with the governor, which recommends a payment of $250,000 to the former and $41,431.91 for the latter. They also reduced the price of convict labor to forty cents per day, and agree to purchase the engine, boilers, and the other machinery at the end of the present contract in March, 1880. It would appear to an outsider that the contractors have no reason to complain of the terms of settlement.

THE SIX INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.
There have been six great international exhibitions. The following statistics in regard to them are particularly interesting at the present moment, which we tabulate as follows:

Exhibit	No. of Exhibitors	No. of Days	No. of Visitors
London, 1862	130	120	6,000,000
Paris, 1867	150	120	8,000,000
London, 1873	180	120	10,000,000
Paris, 1878	200	120	12,000,000
Vienne, 1876	180	120	10,000,000
Philadelphia, 1876	180	120	10,000,000

It may be remarked that while the European exhibitions drew a population of 250,000,000 visitors, in seven days' time, our Philadelphia exhibition drew in 9,577,626 visitors from a population of only 50,000,000 within seven days' travel. This includes Canada and Cuba.

THE HESSIAN BAND.
The Glencoe Reorganizer, has the following "item" in regard to the Hessian Band, the members of which are well known in our village.

"The Hessian Band, which gave two of their interesting musical entertainments in Glencoe a couple of months ago, since which they have been making a tour of the southern and western parts of the State, received a telegram at Rochester the other day, from Hesse Castle, ordering their immediate return home. They have been in America just a year, have performed in most of the prominent towns and cities in the northern States, and but for this order from headquarters would have visited the South and Far West before leaving America. They leave behind them many warm friends, who will wish them goodspeed on their journey back to the Fatherland."

The annual reunion of the old settlers of Blue Earth county will take place at Mankato on the 4th of June. Hon. Charles E. Johnson, St. Paul, will deliver the address.

NUMBER 37

Benton Items.

Wheat is bringing 98 cts. at the depot, and the farmers in this vicinity delivered many hundred bushels for that price.

Dr. Block and Mr. Logelin were in town a few days last week. Mr. Logelin was collecting taxes and the Dr. heading the sick.

Our Brass-band went to Wagonia last Sunday and had their picture taken while sitting in a large band wagon.

Mr. C. Harris, one of our wealthiest farmers, will build a brick house 26x40, with addition 16x20. When completed this will be one of the nicest buildings in town.

Mr. Kamp will also build a brick house 24x36. He is also one of our best farmers.

Mr. E. Sander will finish his brick building in a few days.

J. Meuwissen has lumber on the ground at the depot for his new building. He will build a frame building 26x42.

The private school started here is not as we stated last week a doubtful enterprise, but is a most undoubted success. The school is under the ministrations of Wm. Whittell and commenced May 1st with 17 pupils. It originated from a desire of parties in the town to have more than four months English school, and if they are willing to pay for it we have no objections. Success.

Our friend J. J. Jones will be married to Anna Sison next week.

The Benton Mill will start up to-morrow Friday.

Wagonia Items

Mr. A. Schuch had a porch built in front of the Lake House, which improves the appearance of the building very much. Address knows what constitutes a first-class house.

Our gentlemanly Sheriff, F. E. Du Toit, was in town on Tuesday. We are always glad to see him.

An excursion party from Benton, made us a very pleasant visit last Sunday. Messrs. Miller, Paterson and many others being among the excursionists. The Union Brass Band accompanied them. They made a trip to the island and delighted our citizens with some very fine music. They had a lot of Mike Ziller's celebrated lager and a good old time was the result of the occasion. The thanks of our town are extended to Mr. Frank Vossion, leader of the band, and also the accomplished musicians.

Lots of trouble in our village about those "doves" running at large. Keep them in the pasture or barn and you won't have any trouble.

Crops are looking plentiful in this town. We will have something to say about the new buildings being erected in this town shortly.

THE WANDEGER SOLD.

The Wandeweger, the German Catholic weekly of St. Paul, has been sold by the company of stockholders to a new firm—H. H. Timme & Co. with Frank Brewer, N. Bures, H. H. Miller, Joseph Elles, and F. Fassbind, the latter the editor, as partners. The new owners combine financial responsibility, business experience and the necessary skill and talent for conduct of the paper and we predict as well as wish them success.

A POLITICAL HOROSCOPE.

So far as Indiana is involved, the Democracy will elect their State ticket by an overwhelming majority and will have a majority in each branch of the Legislature, securing the return of Dan Voorhees to the United States Senate. We Republicans may elect three members of Congress, but in all probability will not secure even two. In the next National House of Representatives the Democracy will have a larger majority than they had two years ago, and, with a Democratic Senate, which is a ready secured, in 1879, they will have complete control of the legislative department of the government. About that time, Hays will wish he had never been born. Success in 1878 insures the party success in 1880, when they will control the government in all branches but the judiciary.

The heroes of our Indiana war of 1862 will pick up their ears when they learn that representative Strait, of the Second congressional district, has introduced a bill to give pensions to all persons actually engaged in the suppression of the Indian war in Minnesota in 1862 on the same conditions that are imposed upon ordinary pensions of the United States. Many will criticize this bill on the ground that it is not broad enough to cover all who have at various times, rush to the defence of frontier homes against blood-thirsty red men. It will exclude the heroes of Capt. Starkey's cornstalk cavalry raid, and of the "blueberry war," Col. Hewitt and the surviving braves of Col. Cullen's command, and a host of others whose children and grand children, neighbors and friends drop to sleep when the old man eloquent begins a story of the time when "I was in the Indian war."

CURRENT TOPICS.

A judge at San Francisco decided that a Chinaman wasn't a white man, and now a committee of congress has resolved to report in favor of putting a tax of a hundred dollars a head on him when he comes to this country.

Gov. Irwin of California does not believe in hanging on Good Friday. He reprieved John Runk, a murderer sentenced to be hanged on that day, giving as a reason "a respect for the religious sentiments of a very large number of citizens, that a religious holiday should not be profaned by fixing upon it as a day for the infliction of capital punishment."

Modern case of Roman father, etc.: Officer Patrick Burns, of New York, ran in his own and only son, Dennis, for being drunk, saying that he would also commit the same offense if he were not for his mother's silver pitcher and pawning it so as to go on the spree. However, the paternal heart relented, and the boy would have got off, but for the Justice, who held him in bail and the father as a witness.

The American political economist of the future in glancing at the business record of the last April and the first of May, 1878, will be astonished to find at one time a frightful number of failures all over the country, and then, abruptly, a comparative cessation of bankruptcies. His astonishment will continue until he discovers that the repeal of the bankrupt act marks the dividing line between the two periods.

The question whether, in the event of an Anglo-Russian war, will be revived the old practice of issuing letters of marque, under which ships belonging to citizens of neutral countries might act as privateers, continues to excite much interest abroad, particularly in England, where mercantile marine would doubtless suffer enormously if such a course were resumed, while Russia, whose commercial navy is small, would suffer only slightly.

John O'Connor, late chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Ohio House of Representatives, has not only resigned, but accompanied his resignation with a frank and open confession that he had been a bounty jumper, and a convict in the Michigan State prison. He added that for ten years he had struggled to elevate himself to a respectable position and win the esteem of honest men. Then he threw himself on the generosity of the House, and sank weeping into a chair.

The riotous disturbances which of late have given Montreal an unpleasant notoriety as a city whose coat of arms should represent rowdiness rampant and the officers of the law couchant have drawn the attention of the Dominion Parliament to the necessity of taking measures for the suppression and prevention of these disgraceful occurrences. A bill has been prepared, and the approval of the government secured, which provides for placing under martial law a district in which there is good reason to believe that disorder is about to prevail, and for the enforcement of vigorous military measures to put down the rioters. The necessity of such a law has been amply demonstrated.

Chicago is in a bad way financially. She has been pinched and worried for eight years or more, but has contrived to stave off actual bankruptcy. The device of issuing city scrip without interest and payable out of the taxes of 1878, to be collected in 1879, was resorted to. The legality of this is being tested in the courts. But a new complication has arisen through the refusal of police officers and firemen to accept the scrip in payment for their January salaries, and as the city has nothing else to offer, it is brought face to face with the necessity of discharging these and other public servants. The suspension of the city government, and the shutting up of its offices is predicted.

The morning after the fall of Plevna the London Daily Telegraph issued an edition of 200,000 copies. The proprietors are literally coining money, their net income considerably exceeding $500,000 a year. All this has been done in fifteen years, is due to the forerunner of a chatel mortgage of $20,000 on the machinery and fixtures of the paper, when it was in extremis, by a family of Jewry, type workers, named Levy. Two have since dropped that name, and have, "under royal sanction," taken that of Lawson and the names of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawson appear in the list of guests at the Prince of Wales' last ball. Mr. Edward Lawson, a familiar face in the lobby of the House of Commons, is editor in chief. He is about 27, and has a keen eye to a baronetcy.

The U. S. Supreme Court has decided that the statutes of any state providing for the presence of a minister or magistrate at the solemnization of marriage do not render a marriage at common law invalid for non-conformity. Such statutes regulate the mode of entering into the marriage contract, it is said, but they do not confer the right, and hence they are not within the principle that a state creates a right and provides a remedy for its requirement the remedy is exclusive. A statute may take away a common law right but the presumption is against the intention to do so unless it is clearly expressed. Whatever direction statutes may give respecting the formation or solemnization, the courts have usually held a marriage good at common law, unless a good notwithstanding such statutes, unless it can express words of nullity. In this case the marriage was with an Indian girl by declaration and cohabitation. Mr. Justice Strong delivered the opinion.

Louis Larrault, an Italian rag picker, of Chicago, the 26th ult., shot and killed Michael McCue, aged 18, killing him instantly. The Italian had stolen some paper boxes from the Novelty Manufacturing Works, and was making off with them, when McCue, in the employ of the firm, gave chase, succeeded in capturing the thief, who thereupon drew from his coat a revolver, and threatened to close against the latter. Larrault was hurried off to the central station.

Mat Weaver, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank, Urbana, Ohio, is a defaulter to the amount of $46,700. Weaver resigned his position in the bank a short time ago, when the default was discovered, but it was not until the amount was made up by assessing the stockholders, and the bank is now in good condition. Weaver appropriated over $75,000 of the bank's money, but the directors recovered $29,000. Other citizens of Urbana are losers to a large amount. Among them, Weaver's younger brother will lose $30,000. Speculation in grain in Chicago is said to be the cause.

Nightly robberies for three weeks past at Omaha, Neb., and the presence in the city of an unusual number of tramps necessitate the action of citizens. A committee of safety, and 150 men, thoughtfully organized, are patrolling the city, and searching the city thoroughly. Commencing at 10 o'clock the search was continued until morning. It is not known what disposal will be made of those captured. Legal action will be taken against them, but when desperate remedies will be applied. The opening of the international exhibition took place in a grand pomp and success. At 9 o'clock in the morning it was raining, and it was feared the ceremony would be greatly interfered with, but at 9:45 the rain ceased, and prospects that the day would be fine began to appear.

The ceremony of opening the exhibition began at 2:30 in the afternoon, at which time the flag of the United States was hoisted brightly again. The crowd was immense and enthusiastic in spite of the alternations of rain. Throughout the proceedings there were heard every where the words, "Vive la France."

The page itself is white with a series of horizontal lines running across it, suggesting it might be a ledger or a form. FIRE! FIRE!!

Such was the cry at half past nine o'clock yesterday morning as the dense smoke preceding the bright flames burst forth from the Shakopee flour mill. It was not long in burning out, although our citizens did all they could, but of course, there being no way to use water, no fire department here, they could only guard against spreading to other buildings and it was very fortunate that there was no wind prevailing. Had it occurred the day previous the chances for a general conflagration would have been excellent. Through the exertions of about twenty men, 60 barrels of flour, 5 top-runners, and 3 pair of scales, were saved, while the engine is supposed to be not much injured.
There was about 6000 bushels of wheat destroyed on the machinery and building amounting to $15,000 in the following companies, of which Mr. Lord is agent.
Acton, Springfield, $2,500; Phoenix, $2,500; Union, $2,500; Springfield, $2,500; and Underwriters, $5,000.
A young man named Chas. Lombard had his foot smashed by a mill stone—Shakopee Courier.

An Assassins Attempt.

On May 11th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon as Emperor William was returning from a drive with the grand dukes of Baden, several shots from a revolver were fired at him in the avenue, Unter den Linden. Nobody was hurt. The person who fired the shots was arrested. An accomplice who attempted to rescue the would-be assassin was also arrested.
The man who attempted to assassinate the Emperor is a timonist named Emil Max Hodel said to be from Leipzig who stated at the official examination that he was a native of Leipzig and born in 1857. He denied that he fired at the emperor. He affirmed that he was without work, and intended to shoot himself publicly to show the rich the present condition of the people, and stated that he shot at himself, and could not account for the other three shots, which were wanted in the chamber of the revolver. He thought he might have discharged them in absence of mind. The prisoner was in possession of several socialistic and democratic writings, tickets of membership of several Berlin socialist unions and likenesses of two socialistic leaders. He declared he belonged to no party, but was an anarchist the enemy of all political parties, the present condition of the society and public institutions. It further resulted from the investigation that Hodel formerly held socialistic meetings near Leipzig.

In the House of Representatives, on the 29th inst. H. B. Strait introduced a bill to legalize certain settlements upon swamp lands in the State of Minnesota, and for other purposes, as follows:
"BE IT ENACTED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED, That all claims or settlements made prior to the passage of this act, either as homesteads, pre-emption, or under tree and timber culture acts, upon lands known and designated as swamp lands in the State of Minnesota, and granted to said State under provisions of law, are hereby authorized to perfect said settlements, as now provided for, upon other public lands; Provided, however, That the title to said lands has not been perfected to said State.
Sec. 2. That the State of Minnesota, in lieu of said settlements, shall be authorized to select an equal amount of unoccupied lands of the United States lying within the State of Minnesota: Provided, That the lands herein granted shall be selected within in three years from the passage of this act.

Contributions to the amount of some $6,000 have been received, by the committee appointed that purpose, for the relief of the families of the persons killed in the recent mill explosion at Minneapolis. It is for a worthy purpose and we hope it may reach $10,000.

ANSWER.

In response to an article contained in number 37 of the "Valley Herald" entitled "prove up or shut up" signed by Jacob Byhoff, I want to state, that I am not the author of the said report about Jacob Byhoff, and Hugo Hecklin.—Mr. John Ketterer of Minneapolis stated the facts named in said article, to Mrs. Frank, Messrs. Linenfelser, Vaartz and Bruhn to whom I herewith refer Mr. Byhoff for particulars. Messrs. F. Linenfelser, Chris. Eler and H. Vaartz informed me that Mr. Ketterer made the said statement to them personally.

DOUBLE UP.
Now that the Shakopee mill has burned down, it will be necessary for our Shakopee friends to double up their bonds and bonds as a new mill, or the bridge won't be worth a tinkers d—m. Call on Chas. Benson?

SENATORIAL NOSES.

Senator Kernan is said to have a long, practical, sensible nose; Senator Conkling a handsome, fighting nose; Senator Lamar an artistic nose of great possibilities; Senator Howe a long, triangular nose, with a sharp point; Senator Bayard an inquisitive yet a courteous nose; Senator Edmunds a firm nose, the nose of a grained and knitted character; and Senator Barnum a dashing and headless nose. So gossip a Washington writer, who thinks he knows all about it.

Orders have been issued for concentration north of the Black Hills of the great strength of the Department of the Platte. A camp is to be established for the summer, and a large garrison of cavalry and infantry stationed under command of an experienced officer, not yet designated. The country north of the Black Hills and between Big Horn Mountains and the Yellowstone will be thoroughly patrolled. Gen. Merritt, with a force of cavalry and infantry, will soon reach Fort McKinney and assume command, as will then organizing troops in that section of country, from time to time as may be required.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Closing a school to let the scholars go to the circus is something novel, but that is what was done in a New Jersey town last week.

The Mercedes head-dress is the latest novelty. The hair at the temples is waved and combed upwards; there is a fringe over the forehead only, and a triple band of light tulle veil fastened around the head.

In response to a question from the Postmaster General, the Attorney General has decided that letters believed to contain advertisements of lotteries cannot be withheld by postmasters, for the reason that such action would be illegal so long as the postage is paid.

Edison permitted Gail Hamilton to speak into his new steel phonograph recently. The cylinder made 742 revolutions in a minute, and the tin foil was rolled up into a bullet and shot through a window, killing seven head of cattle in a distant field. On a trip hammer standing at the other side of the room was afterwards found gouged in large letters into the iron, the word "Edison."

It would be difficult to draw a moral from the career of the late Nevada silver mine king, O'Brien. He started in business as a barkeeper, became popular with his evocative customers, got points from them and operated successfully himself. He gradually grew to be very rich, and died worth from fifteen to twenty millions of dollars. If he had not been a barkeeper, he would probably not have become a millionaire, and that spoils the story for Sunday school purposes. Yet the man must have had some qualities worthy of observation.

The English are high spirits over the report that Bismarck has once more declared Germany's intention to remain neutral, if war occurs between Russia and England. The report that Turkey will also maintain a neutral attitude, and has collected forces sufficient to prevent the occupation of her territory by the British, is less encouraging to the latter. But for the moment they are happy in the assurance that Bismarck will not side openly with Russia, and that he has no idea of fighting to exclude a British fleet from the Baltic.

The scene at the hanging of William Baldwin in Texarkana, Arkansas, a few days ago, is said to have resembled a camp meeting, the condemned man acting as chief extorter from the scaffold, and a throng of about 3,500 persons listening attentively, and interrupting the speaker occasionally with ejaculations. The near prospect of a leap into eternity must have infused an amount of fervor into Baldwin's words and his hearer's expectations not usually generated even at colored camp meetings. The report says that many women fainted simultaneously with the fall of the murderer.

Some citizens of Ohio who say they are tired of reading the reiterated references of the newspapers to the Ohio absorption of national office, have prepared a beautiful table, showing the whole number of salaried officers of all departments in Washington, the quota of each State on the basis of population, and the excess or deficiency of each State. This table shows Ohio to have a deficiency of fifty-seven; Pennsylvania an excess of fifty-three; Virginia an excess of six; Maryland an excess of four; and Maryland an excess of four. The illustration of this plausible table, however, is revealed in the fact, that in its figures a Maryland clerk of the lowest grade counts equal to an Ohioan President of the United States, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or member of the cabinet.

A poor woman in Denmark, the wife of a laborer, past fifty, observing a few months ago three children who had fallen through the ice on a lake, rushed into the water, and at the imminent peril of her own life rescued the children. The King decided that this act of bravery should not pass unrewarded. The woman was sent up to town from the country; a room was prepared for her in the royal palace, where she stayed a couple of days to see the sights of Copenhagen, and she received from the hands of the King, in the presence of the royal family, the medal and ribbon of civil acts of bravery, being the first woman in Denmark who has received this honor. The King secured places for her and her family in the Royal Theatre, where she was observed of all observers.

Buckley, of New York, has been making for some time, committed suicide by drowning in the lake near St. Francis seminary, at the south side of the bay. He left several letters addressed to different parties, in which the contents of which show conclusively his intent to suicide. All efforts to recover his body have thus far been of no avail. The immediate cause of his suicide is attributed to mental aberration, brought on by domestic troubles. Mr. Buckley's family consisted of a wife, from whom he was separated, and four children, who are now at Knappa, Tenn.

The loss was about sixty barrels of flour and all the top and the scales saved. The engine is not supposed to be badly damaged. They lost about a hundred bushels of wheat and a bushel of corn. The insurance on the machinery and building amounted to $15,000. The mill was owned by George F. Strait & Co. Cause not known, but supposed to be a friction of the belt.

Fire at Keokuk, Iowa on the 6th inst., destroyed the Keokuk & Des Moines railway company's general office, the Athenaeum, in which was situated Burke's wholesale book store, a new story brick building, and a large stock of books, papers, etc., as well as the Keokuk & Des Moines local office, except such books, papers, etc., as were in the safe. Burke's stock was valued at $45,000. The insurance will more than cover the loss. The building, occupied by the R. & D. M. was owned by S. S. Vail, and is valued at $10,000. The other buildings were also owned by Mr. Vail, and were valued at $45,000. On these there is an insurance of $40,000. The total damage is estimated at $50,000.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Chas. Morgan, one of the oldest and best known steamship owners in New York, died on the 5th inst. Minister Bayard Taylor presented his credentials to the Emperor at Berlin on the 7th inst.

Mary Hoffman, a well known compiler of law books, died at her home in Fishing Village, N. Y., on the 5th inst., aged 84 years. There seems to be little doubt that Hon. John M. Buckley, of New York, has been making for some time, committed suicide by drowning in the lake near St. Francis seminary, at the south side of the bay. He left several letters addressed to different parties, in which the contents of which show conclusively his intent to suicide. All efforts to recover his body have thus far been of no avail. The immediate cause of his suicide is attributed to mental aberration, brought on by domestic troubles. Mr. Buckley's family consisted of a wife, from whom he was separated, and four children, who are now at Knappa, Tenn.

The House committee on public lands has decided to recommend the passage of the so-called Repeal bill introduced this session by Representative Sapp, of Iowa. RUSSIA AND CRIMINALS.

The stockholders of the Sagamore Mills Fall River, Mass., voted to put the concern into bankruptcy, after considering the statement of irregularities of the late treasurer, George T. Hathway. The statement shows the assets of the corporation to be $655,474; book liabilities, $616,435; deficiency in account, owing to appropriations of cash, by Hathway, $80,978; notes outstanding not appearing on the books, $188,100; and more to come. The indebtedness shown on the books is $430,273, to which must be added $138,000 of bogus paper.

The United States grand jury of New York, has indicted Adam Benaim, accused of the Fiskill National bank, tried and acquitted before Judge Benedict some time ago, on the charge of embezzling funds of the bank. The indictments were for false entries to the books of the currency, and for perjury. Another indictment was returned against Michael Toller, the West Point soldier who killed his room mate a few months since.

Human Nature.

A TRUE INCIDENT.

Two little children five years old, Marie and Charlie, the boys, sweet and bright and equally wise, angels both, in their mother's eyes. One day, if you follow my verse, shall see that they were as human as can be, and had not yet learned the manner art of holding the "end" of the fiddle.

One day they found in their room and lay two little rabbits and a grey—
Two little rabbits and a grey—
As like each other as two peas.

As they long the children made love to the dear little mice—their treasured ones; they kissed and hugged them until the night brought to the comers a glad respite.

Two little fondling doesn't agree with much mothering, as we should see, for the little of mother day had chased the shadows of night away.

One little pet had gone to the shades, or let us hope, to perennial glades; and the other, then, was left alone. A heaven where good little rabbits go.

Thinking and doing by side by side, and still alike as before one died; and it seemed that the children came singly to view.

The mother had dreamed of all the night through.

First came Charlie, and with surprise, he found the dead with streaming eyes; "How, come, he said, 'little Marie—her rabbit's dead!'"

Later came Marie and stood against the bed and wept with streaming eyes; "How, come, he said, 'little Marie—her rabbit's dead!'"

"I'm sorry for Charlie—his rabbit's dead!"—
—Marie's Mother for Marie.

How Tom Marshall Cleared a Kentucky Bar-Room.

Tom Marshall was a noted practitioner, at all times and under all circumstances. An excellent story of his ability in this respect is furnished by Mr. Childs, of Lexington, Kentucky. Mr. Childs has just gone from the old town of Harrodsburg, where the first settlement of Kentucky after Daniel Boone, and the chief inn in that old "burgh" was newly exchanged for the Phoenix Hotel, of Lexington. In the new house, it grew very popular, in part because the best chicken, and in part because sweet little Des, or Desdemona, was there, and was very much loved by the landlady's daughter.

Desdemona, with red cheeks, was seen to lie in wait for Congressman Marshall, at a dinner-table, and lead him away somewhere. The crowd of old-fashioned fireplace of the string-room was so piled with hickory and maple logs, and to sit near it made such an intense smell of burning pantheons, that it was no longer that of Christmas Eve, and a deep snow had fallen, but Leslie McMillan, had come in the Harrodsburg stage—just to see how you are, you know, and brought a pretty lady out of father's house, we used to play, you know, etc.

A Plea for the Minister's Wife

GRANDMOTHER.

I have been thinking a good deal lately about ministers and their wives. Perhaps the reason is that the wives wear only a little white apron, and are young, and look as carefree as women of fifty, and their husbands were young and bonnie as ever. I do not believe that a healthy minister's wife can be found in all New England; that is, after they have been married half a dozen years. I think they are an abused class of humanity. Who cares how hard they have to work? No pains are ever made up to send them on European tours. They ever think of the unending stream of visitors that are forever going to the minister's, to visit and call, not counting the minister that comes to make a hotel of the parsonage. Then the minister's wife must attend every prayer and conference meeting, in all parts of town; she must be president of churches of all sorts, and societies that are gotten up for various charitable purposes; she is expected to do her full amount of sewing for the church, and in fact about three times as much work as any woman in the town. If I were a minister's wife (and reckon it a nice arrangement for some people that I am not), I should be very glad if they expected me to work for the society and the church, I should have to do it, and I did more work than the minister did, I should demand a salary accordingly.

What right have a community to expect, or require, all these things of a little, inexperienced, delicate woman? Just because she happened to fall in love and marry a clergyman, is any reason why she should be made a slave, for the convenience of the people in his charge? Her husband works for the good of his church and society at large, and he has his pay for it. Why should not his wife have pay too? She might then be expected to do her full amount of work, and well as to hire her own work done.

It is all wrong to demand more from a minister's wife than from the deacon's wife or the doctor's wife. Does society expect these women to devote their time and strength outside of their homes and families? Oh no! but a minister's wife is a different person entirely! She can do so much good! She has her good work to do, and she does it, and remember that she is mortal, and do not expect her to suffer martyrdom for the sake of the church and people.

Modern Dentistry.

SCHOLASTIC NEWS.

Having occasion recently to need the services of a dentist we were interested to note the improvements made in the various small tools employed in this line. The little hand engine for example, though not altogether agreeable while on duty, performs its work of cutting out the decayed places in a most speedy and satisfactory manner. Held in the hand by the dentist and operated by a treadle it is far superior and less liable to inflict injury upon the sufferer than the sharp pointed tools commonly used for that purpose.

The hand spring pluggers, and the plunger operated by pneumatic force, are also effective instruments, used in the process of putting in the gold filling. The blow from the plunger is steady and direct, and in the case of the plugging machine, there is less liability to accident by slipping off. The introduction of some years since of Watt's sponge polisher, has also greatly improved the operation of filling teeth, but a substitute is needed for the sponge gold, in the shape of a cement, in appearance and of equal hardness to the natural tooth, which permits to resist the destructive action of the saliva. Many attempts have been made to produce a cement of this kind, but thus far without success. Of course wherever attempts to produce a substitute for the sponge gold, the knowledge of the chemistry of the saliva, and of its influence upon the materials to be acted upon, but whoever makes the discovery of an enduring tooth cement, he will find a handsome reward for his ingenuity.

The dental art has reached a degree of perfection to justify the statement, that with proper care of the teeth by a skillful dentist it seldom becomes necessary to have one taken out. It is said, however, that some dentists extract decayed teeth, filling up the holes, and reinserting them in the jaw with perfect success. The dentist has been told that a well known corn and bunion doctor in this city, finding the service of a dentist to be needless, and being too busy to leave corns and bunions, had a tooth taken out, it was then filled and reset in its original position.

Under Fire.

Of coolness under the fire the following is related: Toward the close of the fight of Inkermann, Lord Raglan, returning from taking Lord of General Strangways, met a sergeant carrying water for the wounded. The sergeant drew himself up to salute, when a round shot came bounding over the hill and knocked his force cap out of his hand. The man picked it up, placed it carefully on his head, and made the salute, not a muscle of his countenance moving the while. "A neat thing that you may say," said Lord Raglan. "Yes, my lord," returned the sergeant, with another salute, "and a miss as good as a mile." The commander was probably not surprised by such an exhibition of coolness, but he himself good in that way. He was badly hurt at Waterloo, and says the Prince of Orange, who was the hospital, "I was not conscious of the presence of Lord Fitzroy Somerset until I heard him cry out, in his ordinary tone, 'Hello! don't carry the arm away till I have taken off my ring.' Neither would our operation had extorted a groan from his lips."

Mr. John Cren, of the town of Clonfert, Co. Wick, had the misfortune Thursday last to lose his barn, together with a pair of fine mules, harness, new reaper, etc., by fire. Loss, $1,000, with no insurance.

HOUSE, FARM, GARDEN.

Farm and Garden Notes.

We think it pays to spread the coal ashes under the trees in the orchard. Lime is a good manure for clayey soils and plaster for sandy ones, because the former retains and the latter attracts moisture. Have a place to put all the bones that accumulate about the farm. They are worth money, and can readily be dissolved by wood ashes and chamber lye, or by muriatic acid. Don't plant till the ground is fit. As a rule you gain nothing by premature gardening. When the ground crumbles thoroughly under the pressure of your foot, the ground is dry enough. In cases of soaked soil in a down of the affected part with water and rub with the hand several times a day. For per feeding and a dry bed will, as a rule, obviate the necessity of any treatment for this complaint.

Do not cast aside the old favorites—sweet William, petunias, phlox, hollyhocks, lady slippers, verbenas, chrysanthemums, Canterbury bells, for any new fangled flowers. There are many new and desirable things in the floral world, but it will not do to discard these old jewels of the garden and the well-planned sward. The following is said to be a good formula for a fertilizer for this crop: Thirty pounds of wood ashes, thirty pounds of fine salt, fifteen pounds of bone dust, fifteen pounds of plaster; the whole to be thoroughly mixed. An ounce of this compound in each hill of potatoes will tell a good story at harvest time.

Not Up in His Language.

Millet has often been recommended as a plant, for which it has special advantages as it can be sown late in the season when other crops are out of the way. It may be successfully grown in the garden, and it is also sown in other early spring crops, or it may be sown on land after a crop of barley or grass has been gathered, and matured sufficiently for forage. The common millet will ripen within sixty days after sowing and it will then make good hay, besides affording a large quantity of seed valuable for poultry, or, if ground, excellent for the pig. The seed of millet is worth all the cost of raising, leaving the hay for a profit. As the crop can be put in and harvested at seasons of the year when other crops are out of the way, its culture is made easier. It is an excellent crop to put upon a stubborn piece of ground to kill out weeds, such as thistle, dock, etc., for if the millet is well planted and the surface well hoed, the millet will soon shade it thoroughly and kill out the foul stuff. A little manure on the surface around the seed will do much to aid the growth of the seed. The crop may be run through a threshing machine, or if bound up into bundles, threshed with flails to separate the seed. As the seed is so abundant, it is not worth the trouble of separating it from the straw.

The Golden or German millet is the best for a forage plant and resembles corn in its growth, as it throws out a coarse-like leaf. The seed is well polished, and the entire surface is covered with a fine down. This seed of millet requires to mature its seed, and should, in a northern latitude, be sown by the first of June. For forage it is the best of all crops. It is a good crop to grow in the garden, and it is also sown in other early spring crops, or it may be sown on land after a crop of barley or grass has been gathered, and matured sufficiently for forage. Mark Twain as a Reporter.

The reporters during this period were Frank W. Cross, lately Secretary of the Superintendent of the Mint, C. W. Crocker (dead), W. K. McGrew, E. C. Stock, Sam C. Clemens ("Mark Twain")—all with the exception of the latter, industriously and useful in their places. In saying this we do not wish to detract from Mr. Clemens at all; but truth compels us to state that one of the best American writers in his way, and who has made wealth and fame by his pen, was the most useless local reporter it has ever been our lot to meet. The business at that time necessitated, of course, a good deal of physical activity, and for this reason only, we suppose, the work was not at all in Clemens' line. An amusing and characteristic instance of this may be given:

"Mark," said the managing editor to him one day, "there is a riot going on among the streetwalkers along the city front. Get the facts and make a column."

"Ya-as," he responded, with his inimitable drawl, "but you can't get them! there's no street railing down that way. You wouldn't want a fellow to walk a mile to see a couple of 'long shoremen in a fight, would you?"

"That you are out of your element in the routine of the position; that you are capable of better things in literature."

TRUSTEES.

George Faber, F. W. Henning, S. W.

Lusk, Jos. E. P. Jenk,

Clark, Fred Grunow, Jr.,

village of Carver, and the nuptials were witnessed by a large circle of friends of both the bride and groom. We extend our young friends our hearty congratulations and wish them a long and happy life.

NEW BARN.

Christian Smith of Lake town, has just completed a new frame barn on his farm
that is a credit to any farmer. Its dimension is 32 x 60. Mr. Mockentine of Carver was the builder.

John Schmeig, a neighbor of Mr. Smith,
and an old and well known settler, is also building a large frame barn 36 x 60. It is an ornament to Mr. Schmeig's large farm.
Mr. M. is also the builder.

John H. Hriegel of Chanhassen, is also building a large barn, the dimension being about the same as those of Mr. Smith.—
John is a young man, and this evidence of prosperity, is gratifying to his many friends.

PLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

Is always the happy result of using Parker's
Ginger. The mother gains surprisingly in health and strength by its aid, and her babe thus ob-
tains a happy comfort and peace that shows
wonderfully the strengthened nervous and physical condition of the mother reflects itself on her nursing little one. It is a real comfort to have Headache, Nervousness and Sleeplessness
subdued as only this remedy can do it, while
that destroyer of our little ones—Cholera Infantum, and the dreaded Cholera, Dysentery,
Cholera Morbus, Colic and Cramps, are shorn of their terrors and speedily cured by this incomparable corrective and invigorant. Buy from your druggist Jos. Franken 25¢ bottle or a sample bottle at 15 cts and test its merits.

INCORPORATED.

The Young America Railway Company,
filed articles of incorporation last week, in the Secretary of State's office. The company proposes to build and operate a railroad to the village named. The capital stock is to be $10,000, and all the incorporators are Young Americans. We hope to see work commenced on this branch soon.

Fred Krzybnicki, has accepted a situation as clerk in a store in the Red River Country. He has a good situation.
He is already at his post of duty.

DR. C. M. PALMER.

Dr. Palmer, recently of Waconia, in this State has taken up his residence in Chaska
for the practice of his profession. The Dr.
comes well recommended; he is also a physician of 12 years standing. His office is at the Drug Store, where he can be found at all times. See adv.

Mothers will find Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup just the medicine to have in the house for the children, it will cure colic,
coughs, sore throat and regulate the bowels, try it. Sold by Jos. Franken.

IRON CLAD TAX LAW.

Read the treasurers notice in another column in regard to the "Iron clad tax law." It is for your interest to heed his advice.

Read the notice of Joseph Hahn, published in our advertising column. He cautions the public against buying a note

MARRIED.—Miss Anna Glogus was mar- ried to John Schmeig, at the residence of Anthony Glogus, Waconia, last Tuesday evening. We understand the young folks of that neighborhood had a good time over the wedding feast. We extend our congratu- lations.

HAPPY.—Dagobert Kerker's usually pleasant countenance is now wreathed with similes. It was occasioned by the appearance of a 13 pound boy in his family last Tuesday,
and Dagobert says he will be the mayor
of our young city within a few years, congratulations are now in order.

Look over the advertisements in this issue of the HERALD and patronize the establishments that are represented in our columns. They are indications of energy and liberality.

THE CONCERT.—The concert given in Concordia Hall, last week, for the benefit of the English Service Association, was a success in every particular. The sum real- ized was hardly as large however, as was anticipated.

Distemper, Coughs, Colds, Fevers and most of the diseases which Cattle, Sheep, Hogs
and poultry are subject too are readily overcome
and cured by Uncle Sam's Condition Powder
according to the plain directions. Sold by all druggists. Sold by Jos. Franken.

THE STATE ROAD.

The Committee to lay out the new State road from Chaska to St. Mary's Church in Scott County, have about completed their work. The road when finally completed will be a convenience to the people of this County. All our time has to be purchased in Scott County, while the citizens of that side of the river would like to purchase their brick and sell their wood in Chaska, to say nothing of the other matters of trade and commerce. The road as laid out, will make the distance from Chaska to St. Mary's Church just 7 miles, while the grade is good, and a great share
of the road is already in good traveling condition. The commissioners in charge of the matter were Messrs. Frederick Iltis, Leonard Grates and Charles Strunk. As soon as the survey is finally adopted we will have something further to say in regard to this matter.

the following relating to persons well known in this County.

tled in Adrian and has opened a law and collection office. The paper speak highly of him.

John T. Minnis, of Shakopee, son-in-law of Albert Kohler of Waconia, is the most prominent builder and contractor in that place.

Frank McLean, the gentlemen who plastered
the Waconia and Benton Church has also located here.

Some 15 or 20 citizens of Carver County have settled near Adrian on farms and are all doing well. We wish them all success.

PERSONAL.—Jacob Buche and wife, of Carver were in town last Saturday. Ja- cob called on all his friends.

daughter of Jos. Weinmann, has been in town a number of days the past week,
visiting old time friends.

Benton Items.

Mr. Jno. Jorison was married to Miss Anna Sieben last Wednesday. The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Sie-ben, the Rev. Father Braun tied the knot.

Our old friend C. Pfaffhaar, is troubled with rheumatism. He is also building a new barn 50x64 feet, and will build a brick house next season.

Last Thursday Mr. W. Zinken was arrested by the deputy sheriff on a trifling charge, he promptly settled by paying $13.00.

The great number of movers passing through town westward, is a good thing for our saloon keepers. They always stop and take a drink.

J. Meuwissen will commence work on his new building next week. Dols and Jorison have the contract to do the carpenter work.

John Weinmann is local agent for the Hail Insurance Company and is very busy now.

The Benton flouring mill is now in full running order. It is now the best mill in the county. The proprietors are now prepared to do any and all work entrusted to them and guarantee the very best of satisfaction.

FOR EXCHANGE.

I have a good new farm wagon, which I will exchange for Barley. Farmers call &
see me, and we will make a trade.

PETER ILTIS.

The Iron Clad Tax Law.

Passed at the last session of the Legislature
compels me to turn over to the Auditor all the tax books in my office on the first day of June,
and upon that day 10 per cent, penalty will be added to all unpaid taxes. If tax payers delay settling until late in May, it will be impossible to me to get their receipts, and the penalty will be added by the Auditor. All interested will find it to their interest to call and settle as early as possible.

PETER WEEGO.

Crops are looking finely in this section of the County, except corn, which looks the "worst" on account of the frost of the past few nights.

A large concourse of people assembled
on the shore of Eagle Lake, yesterday,
to witness the administration of the right of baptism of Mr. Berfeld and daughter and Mr. Stocum. Elder Farber administered
the right.

Returning from Renville County last Friday, I met on the road between Glencoe and Young America, about an average of one and a half team to the mile all being loaded with provisions and breaking plows
and headed for the fertile prairies of the west.

The "high joint commission settled President Hayes title to his office for four years, but it didn't investigate the glaring frauds practiced in Florida and Louisiana—the Democratic house proposes to do this and nothing more.

This 3rd District is in somewhat of "turmoil" just now—while everything is lovely in the 2nd. Brother Jennison can't you stir up the animals in this end of the District with a long stick. It is getting just a trifle monotonous.

And still the Dispatch isn't happy? Because the Democratic House proposes to investigate the Florida and Louisiana inquiry. How the mighty have fallen!

The Republican congressional committee of the 3rd or more properly speaking the Minneapolis and St. Paul Districts, met at the call of chairman Fletcher, in Minneapolis last week. Minneapolis was selected as the place for holding the next convention, which was the first tally for Minneapolis. The basis of representation was then fixed upon the vote of 1876 the vote of McNair and Stewart which counts another tally for Minneapolis. To sum it all up, Minneapolis is jubilant. St. Paul boiling over with rage while the rural "dis-tricks" remain to be heard from. In the mean time "let us have peace."

The prices obtained at the recent sales of school lands are much higher than at previous sales, and the proceeds will materially augment the school funds. The lands sold were selected years ago with great care, and are well worth their cost to those who will improve them.

On Friday last, Mr. Dunnell introduced a bill, which was immediately passed, providing that notice of contest under the pre-emption, homestead and timber culture laws, must be printed in newspapers in the county where such contest lies.

THE POTTER RESOLUTIONS.

The House of representative, adopted the Potter resolutions last week, after a very exciting debate. The resolutions are given in full on our second page. They provide for a full investigation into the Florida and Louisiana presidential frauds. The Republican members abstained from voting and attempted to defeat a quorum, but by persistent work the Democrats were able to pass the resolution by the required vote, 146.

WHAT CHARLIE SLOCUM SAYS.

St. Charles Times (Dem.)
Next, Gov. J. B. Wakefield will be the next Governor of Minnesota. Put that in your pipe and smoke it. That is what Charlie Slocum says, and as he has smoked out every Governor of Minnesota, in that way, for the last twenty years, we suppose we might as well be making up our minds for the inevitable. And yet the old saying, "There is many a slip between the cup and the lip," has often proved true. It's a good while to set to hatch that egg, Charlie anyhow.

One of the marvels of this age of emigration and enterprise is the rapid settlement of the Yellowstone Valley. At the point on Tongue River where General Miles was encamped in 1876 there is now a town with a population of nearly one thousand. The battle-fields of Custer and his men are occupied by farmers, and the country from which Sitting Bull was driven is in the peaceful possession of the pioneers of a civilization against which such tremendous tragedies as the Custer massacre count as nothing.

The Republican State Convention of Pennsylvania, on Wednesday, nominated Hon. H. M. Hoyt for Governor, Chas. W. Stone Lieutenant-Governor, J. P. Sterrett for Supreme Judge, and A. K. Dunkel for Secretary of Internal Affairs. The Platform entirely ignores the Administration.

Watertown Items.

Senator Lienau has gone to the capital to attend the extra session of the Senate on the page impeachment trial.

The refreshing rains of the past week done abundance of good in this vicinity. Wheat has been on the decline and is only bringing 90 cents for No 1 in this market.

Prairie schooners continue to pass through this place daily, enroute for the big prairies.

The first game of Base Ball of the season will be played by the white shirts of this place and Montrose boys this week Saturday on the formers grounds.

C. Barth Sr., is also entitled to credit for new sidewalk and a splendid line of hitching posts in front of his place of business.

Seeley's Panorama or Magic lantern Show, was well attended on Saturday evening last and after the show the young folks enjoyed a social hop for a few hours.

The Village fathers say that ball playing must be stopped on Lewis Street. Boys will govern themselves accordingly.

The demand for Watertown plows is so great that the proprietors are unable to meet the demand.

F. Mueseler is having some new chimneys built on his blacksmith shop, and will as we understand, otherwise renovate it.

New sidewalks are in order, those who have completed new walks so far are Messrs. Worth and Mobias, Peter Campbell, Lewis Krause and Mr. Allstrom. More to hear from soon.

Quite a number of boys from town attended a raffle and dance in Hollywood last Monday evening and when coming home in the morning, a little speeding of horse flesh was indulged in and the natural result followed: a wrecked buggy.

Monday week, was regular monthly fair and sales day the attendance was very large and considerable stock changed hands, auctioneers and peddlers were also quite numerous.

We understand there is to be a new bond election in Hollywood town, in the near future for to aid in the construction of the proposed narrow gauge. Four thousand is the amount to be voted on.

Mrs. Schultze, whose history the people of the County are pretty familiar with, is about to bring about a reconciliation with her husband, but those who are in position to know best say he will never be reconciled worth a cent.

Three of our enterprising young men Messrs. Frank H. Hagen, Sam Sturman and Will Green returned last week from a trip to Fargo D. T. where they each took a firm. They report migration to that locality simply immense.

Young America Items.

A flood of rain poured down on us last Sunday night, and it seemed for a time as if the weather clerk was about to wash us down into the Mexican Gulf; but Young America, being considerably elevated above the surrounding country, were saved.

C. M. Kenberg, our G. mbrinus had some paper hangings put up in his saloon which is quite an improvement to the room.

The coopers of this place are busily at work turning out flour barrels for the mill. Ackerson on Iron Mill is in operation day and night with a double gang of men. The flour is shipped directly to New York.

P. Schatz the popular Free-Lecturer was here and his lecture, as well as the Sunday school conducted by him, were well attended.

About twenty teamsters are stopping at the Farmers Home, engaged in hauling ties for the H. & D. R. R.

Waconia Items

Waconia needs a little advertising abroad by the hotel keepers and others interested. There are many persons who in the heat of summer seek a quiet, pleasant place to spend a few weeks. Few places are better adapted for pleasant recreation during the summer months than our own beautiful village. Who will be the first? It will benefit all.

Mr. Ang. Fahl, one of our wealthiest farmers has just completed a new barn 24 x 41. Mr. C. Radde, our worthy blacksmith is building an addition to his blacksmith shop 18 x 32 which will be used for paint and wagon shop. Mr. Christ Lupitz has lumber on the ground for a new frame house 20 x 32, with addition 14 x 18. Mr. G. Boetche of this place is the builder.

A new picket fence has been put around our school house last week. A step in the right direction.

Messrs. Elmeseler and Stenger also built a picket fence around their dwellings. Continue the good work citizens.

Sidewalks is the next thing in order. Who will build the first?

Miss Caroline Scheidnager returned home Saturday (of one years absence) from Saint Paul. Her many friends are glad to see her smiling face once more.

Mr. Frank Schroeder, that worthy brewer who left for St. Paul a few weeks ago returned here Sunday. Frank says there is no place like Waconia.

Pardoned.

Bernhard Hockenpoepler of Waconia, who was sentenced to Stillwater for two years, for seduction under promise of marriage, has been pardoned by the Governor, on the condition that he would marry Miss Cleagans. Col. Baxter has had the credit of bringing about this happy state of affairs. The parties will be married in Stillwater to-morrow. The friends of both parties and they are numerous, will rejoice at this pleasant termination of a very serious matter. Judge McDonald is also entitled to considerable credit in the matter by helping to bring about the result.

Billie Mohler.

The Reads Landing correspondent of the Lake City Journal, has the following "item" regarding an old time boy of Carver.
"W. B. Mohler, the Nabby of Reads, is still in the dry goods, clothing and grocery trade and seems to be doing a good business. W. B. is one of the solid men of Reads, and a jolly good fellow as well."

FOR EXCHANGE.

I have a good new farm wagon, which I will exchange for Barley. Farmers call & see me, and we will make a trade.

The Globe is red hot on the Presidential fraud matter. It don't mind its words and is truly refreshing to read. Hall knows how to stick a pin every time.

Senator Windom, reports say, is charged with a long and powerful speech, upon the necessity of improving the navigation of the Mississippi river. We have no doubt he wants another $20,000,000, appropriated by the general government. It is always so.

Death of Major John C. Becht.

Major John C. Becht of St. Paul, member of the firm of Benz and Becht, and well known in this county, died in St. Paul, on Tuesday afternoon, May 28th, after a very short illness. He was sheriff at the time of his death and a very prominent and highly respected citizen of St. Paul.

REV. FATHER MAGNUS.

We clip the following item from the Hastings Gazette, in regard to Rev. Father Magnus Meyer, formerly pastor of the Catholic Church, of this city.

"The Rev. Magnus M. Meyer who recently resigned his parish in New Trier on account of a throat difficulty, has bought a place in town with the design of becoming a permanent resident."

Bro. JENKINS of the Red Wing Republican, hasn't exactly complied with our request of late, but has made one step in that direction by formally bringing out Mr. S. Chaudler, of Red Wing, as a candidate for congress against Hon. H. B. Strat.

Politics promises to be quiet in this district until the Major returns home, when we presume there will be a stirring up of "dry bones" among the select fry.

SECOND DISTRICT.

Wm. Wilson Esq., chairman of the 2nd district congressional committee, republican, has called a meeting of the committee at Shakopee, on the 31st day of May.

Now to make things lively all around the board this fall, come the Fletcher dodge on it, and we guarantee you a lively fight in the district this fall.

The following members of the House have been appointed on the committee to investigate the Florida and Louisiana Presidential frauds: Clarkson N. Potter, New York; Wm. R. Morrison, Illinois; E. Hinton, Virginia; John A. McMahon, Ohio; J. S. C. Blackburn, Kentucky; W. S. Stenger, Pennsylvania; Thos. R. Cobb, Indiana—all Democrats; with the following Republicans: B. F. Butler, Massachusetts; Frank Hiseock, New York; J. D. Cox, Ohio; Thos. B. Reed, Maine; M. H. Dummell, Minnesota. The committee will send a sub-committee of three, two Democrats and one Republican, to Florida, and a similar one to Louisiana, while the other five members will investigate in Washington.

REPUBLICANS ON THE COMMISSION.
The Democrats say that those Republicans who complain of Randall's selection of Republicans to serve on the committee treat the Speaker unfairly. They assert that at Potter's suggestion Randall invited Eugene Hale to nominate four Republicans, and that his suggestions were followed, except that Gen. Butler's name was substituted for that of Mr. Dummell, of Minnesota. The Democrats also say that the Republican portion of the committee compares favorably with the Democratic majority, and that the Republican cause cannot suffer in their hands. Messrs. Reed and Hiseock are both bright men, and lawyers of unusual ability. They will probably make up, in zeal for what they lack in experience, and will see to it that no unfair advantage is taken without its being exposed. (Washington Telegram.)

VOLUME 16

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, MAY. 30 1878

NUMBER 35

We notice in the last number of the Globe Register, that Mr. Walter DeMers at an entertainment given in that place recently, had read from Shakespeare, and that our friend Hall, criticizes Walter rather severely. This rather surprises us, as we had met several gentlemen who were present, and who spoke very highly of Mr. DeMers' reading. We have noticed in several Iowa newspapers quite a number of very flattering notices concerning him, and it will also be remembered that Mr. DeMers, was one of the principal actors at "Gales Minneapolis Concert," not long since, and to show our friend Liberty, what the papers of Minneapolis thought of his Shakespearean readings, we publish below, a few lines from the local columns of the "Pioneer Press," and we can also say that in conversation recently with two or three Minneapolis gentlemen, who are good judges and who have had good opportunities to hear Mr. DeMers, think that he is destined to achieve distinction in his profession. We certainly hope so, and can only say—Go ahead—feeling confident that a few years hence, Mr. Hall will see his mistake.

Young America Items.

No ten-pin last Sunday, the weather being uncomfortably fresh.

Mr. Fr. Goetz was serenaded by the Pioneer Maennerchor last Sunday night on the occasion of his birth-day.

The P. M. Hall has been decorated with paper-hangings and it looks fine.

Some of our good people are sorry for having removed the stoves to soon.

Mr. Fr. Rausch has a large stock of furniture which he will sell cheap.

Our fair was well attended, quite a number of cattle were sold, many of buyers being present. Marys little lamb was present also.

A general row at G. Tricks saloon on Sunday evening was the result of a days imbibing of strong drink. No one was killed but one particular "long fellow" was doubled up like a jack-knife. Give us a rest on Sunday's.

The Supt. Wm. Benson paid our District School a visit last Sunday.

The hands of C. Markensbergs clock still points to half past one.

Waconia Items

We are glad to state that our citizens have taken a step in the right direction about re-building our grist and saw mill. A meeting was held here the 25th inst., and it was resolved that another public meeting should be called on Pentecost Monday, (Pentecost Monday) June 10th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the public school house. Every body is invited to attend and especially the farmers in this vicinity. We hope to see a large turnout and a large fund subscribed. Mr. Habeck has got out sufficient timber for the frame and is still at work. Is there none among the many readers of the Herald who has the necessary funds to go into partnership with Mr. H. He is an experienced miller and pleasant to get along with.

W. C. Odell, atty., from Chaska and J. F. Dilly of the same place were in town Sunday and Monday.

Fishing is excellent and our beautiful lake is now a favorite resort. Make a note of this, ye sportsmen.

Our road overseer made things fly around our streets last week. Good.

Deputy Sheriff Logelin was in town last week.

ARRESTED AGAIN.

The PIONEER-PRESS of Friday has the following item in regard to Charles Markus, whose parents reside in Shakopee. Charles, it will be remembered, boarded with Sheriff DuToit nearly one year while awaiting his trial for robbing Reed's safe at Glencoe: "Yesterday Charles Markus was before the municipal court, and had his case continued till next Wednesday, the 29th, and failing to give $500 bail he was sent to jail. He is one of the most good-for-nothing things ever in this county, and has done nothing but steal since he reached St. Paul, about four years ago. About three years ago he robbed Captain Reed, of Glencoe, of $882, in whose employ Markus was. He escaped to Massachusetts, and Officer Bessett brought him back. He would have been convicted if he had been properly prosecuted. He has for the last three or four months kept the police of St. Paul constantly at work. At last Officer Bessett got him. He will probably go right before the grand jury."

The country has nearly lost its capacity to thrill at rumors of approaching trouble in the Indian country; but the report of alarm at the movement of the Sioux on the part of the Canadian mounted police, in connection with the news of a raid by a band of unknown savages in northern Montana, has more plausibility than any other recent sensation, and may revive the forgotten experience of lively interest in frontier proceedings.
